Login

The desktop login page is shown below. The mobile version looks almost identical.

1. Click in the username field and type your username
2. Click in the password field and type your password
3. Click Login to access the system
    a. In the event of a failed login, please make sure that the username and password are correct.
    b. If the username or password have been forgotten, please contact your system administrator.